Developing communities and bringing people together.

Through a culture of innovation and an interdisciplinary approach, Hillwood Communities stays curious about what matters to people now, and to those who will follow. Our craft is the rigorous pursuit of better solutions for how we live, work and come together.

We create vibrant communities that are designed for more ease, connection, and joy — a certain Hillwood hospitality that creates extraordinary experiences for our customers, partners, and stakeholders. Because at the end of the day we believe that if we do right by people and the planet, the rest will take care of itself.

ABOUT HILLWOOD COMMUNITIES

We're Hillwood Communities, a Perot Company. Texas-grown, we are one of the country's only large-scale, independent mixed-use community developers. We are a privately owned company with 30+ years of loyalty to our customers, partners and communities. This frees us to focus on visionary, made-to-endure placemaking — and the quality of home and work life that creates.
